Background

Government Code Section 11017.6 requires all State agencies to prepare each year, a rulemaking calendar for that year. The rulemaking calendar must be prepared in accordance with a format specified by the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) and approved by

“...the head of the department or, if the rulemaking agency is an entity other than a department, by the officer, board, commission, or other entity which has been delegated the authority to adopt, amend, or repeal regulations...”

These annual calendars are then published by the Office of Administrative Law in its Regulatory Notice Register, giving interested parties advance notice of State agency rulemaking plans for the year.

Government Code Section 11017.6 describes two schedules included in the Rulemaking Calendar. Schedule A describes the rulemaking necessary to implement statutes enacted during the previous year. Schedule B describes all other rulemaking the agency plans to propose, to implement or interpret other statutes enacted during years prior to the previous year. For each proposed rulemaking, the Calendar is to contain information specified in Government Code Section 11017.6 and Executive Order W-144-97.

Key Issues

Effect of the Rulemaking Calendar

The rulemaking calendar is designed to be a "snapshot in time." It provides a once a year overview of each agency's potential regulations for the coming year. A particular regulatory package must be listed on the calendar at the time the Office of Administrative Law is reviewing it for approval. However, the calendar is not restrictive in nature. Emergency regulations need not be on the calendar. The Department is not bound by the projected dates on the calendar. New packages may be added to the calendar during the year if they were not "reasonably anticipated."

The Proposed 2015 Rulemaking Calendar

The 2014 rulemaking calendar listed 16 potential rulemaking packages.

The 2015 rulemaking calendar (attachment) was prepared with input collected by the regulations coordinators of the Department's various divisions. The 2015 calendar lists 18 potential regulatory packages.

1 rulemaking package with new or revised regulations was completed in the last year:

- Waste Tire Storage/Permitting, New Fire Standards and Simplification of the Five-year Permit Reapplication Process, Penalties

2 rulemaking packages are being withdrawn from the Rulemaking Calendar for now:

- Plastic Market Development Regulations
- Individual Commingled Rate Regulations

13 rulemaking packages are being carried over from last year in the following areas:

- Revisions to Title 14 and 27 (Compostable Materials, Transfer Processing, Permit)

- Revisions to RMDZ Loan Regulations
- Cancellation of Beverage Containers
- New regulations for Used Mattress Recovery and Recycling
- Revisions to Farm and Ranch Regulations
- Revisions to Rigid Plastic Packaging Container Regulations

5 potential rulemaking packages are being added:
